Explaining Deconstruction:

Verstehen and Humane Understanding Anthony O'Hear, 1996 This 1997 collection of essays addresses topics that are of crucial importance to the lives of us all Is there a mode of thinking peculiar to human life and its concerns which is different from and irreducible to scientific rationality Is historical understanding different from scientific understanding Do psychology religion and aesthetics have their own forms of rationality Can you be rational about human life without being scientific The contributors address these and related questions some focusing on the history of the development of the notion of Verstehen others examining particular areas of discourse and practice

In the Borderlands of Teaching and Learning Bryant Griffith, 2019-02-11 The craft of teaching and learning is like playing in a symphony orchestra every instrument has a voice and every voice is integral to the whole The arts history anthropology and philosophy and their forged discourses offer us a series of cautionary tales about the multiplicity of ways we can see and understand our world ways we often ignore in the classroom In the case of epistemology and pedagogy in particular we have hinged our understanding on a binary of opposites engaged in a dialectic dance and a type of discourse constructed to describe and explain it The art and act of teaching in this as if world necessitates teachers to be public intellectuals intellectual symbols who represent something more than just subject knowledge expertise but serve as conduits between the discourses of our world Established genres and discourses are exclusionary The vast migration of people and ideas is producing a new set of presuppositions The manner in which we decode other discourses and fuse them into meanings both personal and shared is the root of both teaching and learning giving us a window into the way that each form of thought is connected both historically and experientially Look around you your school is becoming the United Nations but it s not so united Don t aim for truth aim for understanding Today s students construct and deconstruct in a multitude of ways on an as needed just in time basis Since ideas of difference are often nudged but unacknowledged we are in danger of becoming pedagogical dinosaurs not heeding change until it is too late Teaching and learning are construction zones so get out your hard hat These constructions are possibilities that need to be discussed and negotiated allowing us to sidestep the traps of grand narratives and a hierarchy of disciplinary and research methodology Our possibilities need to be forged on an anvil of diversity These are the spaces the interstices where our voices become innovative and our silence offers a safe harbor Spaces to listen collaborate and craft cautionary tales about our lives and the possibilities for a shared future

The New Literary Criticism and the New Testament Elizabeth Struthers Malbon, Edgar V. Cain,1984 This book is a statement of my views on a number of problems in literary theory and contemporary criticism But it is also as any theoretical study must be a progress report a record of inquiry that has not yet concluded In a sense a book on theory cannot really end At a certain point work on it ceases even though one continues to think critically and skeptically about the problems and the solutions that the book contains Preface p xi

Medicalisation of the Human Mind. Challenges to the Current System and Suggestions for Future Direction Nilani Ljunggren De Silva,2016-03-16 Scientific Study from the year 2015 in the subject Psychology Clinical Psychology Psychopathology Prevention language English abstract The scope of this book is to provide a clear account of clinical psychology and in doing so to critically analyse how our mind is being subjected to external forces by illuminating examples from fieldwork in Sweden China Sri Lanka Cambodia and the Philippines The book also provides a vibrant insight into humanistic psychology and this disposition is more in tune with postmodern philosophical disposition that is calling for deconstructing some of the existing knowledge to bring forth a new awareness that is conducive to present day realities It also suggests alternative ways in which clinical psychology can improve when treating people with psychological setbacks The writing can work as a handbook for students researchers and teachers as well as doctors who treat mental illnesses Not the least this book also gives school psychologists and educators who work in a plural and multicultural milieu a valuable insight Not only can this book also serve special teachers who work with children with different needs with valuable psychological hints to develop a better cognitive social emotional teacher pupil relationship To expand psychology by bringing knowledge from various disciplines such as pedagogy sociology culture political economy human geography and the field of neuroscience will certainly be a valuable project worth pursuing and that explains the rationale of writing a scholarship of this kind This interdisciplinary academic background that I gained throughout my academic years was the stepping stone towards that direction that is to analyse the present day clinical practices using a multidisciplinary approach

Explaining Deconstruction Kathleen Wheeler,C T Indra,1997 Anti-boxology Phoebe Sengers,1998 Abstract Artificial Intelligence AI the design of technology with attributes that we traditionally associate with living beings generally follows the broader scientific tradition of focusing on technical problems and their solutions within a relatively constrained framework The cultural studies of science on the other hand insists that scientific work should be understood as it springs from and influences other cultural phenomena including the background of metaphors and assumptions that influence the way scientists do their work In this thesis I explore the possibilities for AI and the cultural studies of science to engage in a mutually beneficial alliance by studying AI as a culturally situated activity and by using results of that study to generate novel technology Specifically I focus on the design of autonomous agents programs which are intended to represent a complete person animal or character In the alternative AI tradition these agents are created from a set of independent building blocks termed behaviors A major open question is how these behaviors can be synthesized to create an agent with overall coherent behavior I trace the problems in behavior integration to a strategy called atomization that AI shares with industrialization and psychiatric institutionalization Atomization is the process of breaking agents into modular chunks with limited interaction and represents a catch 22 for AI while this strategy is essential for building understandable code it is fatal for creating agents that have the overall coherence we have come to associate with living beings I tackle this problem of integration by redefining the notion of agent Instead of seeing agents as autonomous creatures with little reference to their sociocultural context I suggest that agents can be thought of in the style of cultural studies as a form of communication between the agent s designer and the audience which will try to comprehend the agent s activity With this metaphor as a basis it becomes clear that we need to integrate not the agent s internally defined code but the way in which the agent presents itself to the user Narrative psychology suggests that agents will be maximally comprehensible as intentional beings if they are structured to provide cues for narrative I therefore build an agent architecture the Expressivator which provides support for narratively comprehensible agents most notably by using behavioral transitions to link atomic behaviors into narrative sequences

Kibler, Leslie Zarker Morgan, 2006 Each book contains a CD featuring performances of the Song of Roland The Song of Roland is a well known hallmark of medieval French literature yet students often read only excerpts and receive general introductions to the poem and its context The challenges of teaching Roland include its age and subject matter its form and composition in Old French and its representation of Christians and Muslims This volume in the MLA series Approaches to Teaching World Literature aims to help nonspecialist instructors teach Roland more comprehensively and to offer seasoned medievalists ways to invigorate their pedagogical tactics Part 1 Materials surveys available editions a wide range of secondary studies devoted to the poem and electronic aids to teaching Essays in part 2 Approaches elaborate on the poem s contexts avatars language techniques and characters and episodes describe the diverse classroom strategies that experienced instructors have implemented and review the voluminous critical canon about the poem The musical quality of the Song of Roland is vital for students to grasp A compact disc accompanying the volume showcases reconstructions of sung performances of the Song of Roland in Old French The examples offered here illuminate the rich quality of Roland s archaic language and demonstrate a few efforts to recover its lost music Paired with performances of Roland are melodies used as models for singing the poem
