William Allen

Green Phoenix:

The Green Phoenix Paul F. Lurquin, 2001 Providing the first account of the story behind genetically engineered plants Paul F Lurquin covers the controversial birth of the field its sudden death phoenixlike reemergence and ultimate triumph as not only a legitimate field of science but a new tool of multinational corporate interests In addition Lurquin looks ahead to the potential impact this revolutionary technology will have on human welfare As Lurquin shows it was the intense competition between international labs that resulted in the creation of the first transgenic plants Two very different approaches to plant genetic engineering came to fruition at practically the same time and Lurquin s account demonstrates how cross fertilization between the two areas was critical to success The scientists concerned were trying to tackle some very basic scientific problems and did not foresee the way that corporations would apply their methodology With detailed accounts of the work of individual scientists and teams all over the world Lurquin pieces together a remarkable account unexpectedly fall in love with their customers Han also tells the stories of male patrons who find themselves emotionally trapped between desire and their sense of propriety First published in 1892 and made into a film by Hou Hsiao hsien in 1998 The Sing song Girls of Shanghai is recognized as a pioneering work of Chinese fiction in its use of psychological realism and its infusion of modernist sensibilities into the traditional genre of courtesan fiction The novel s stature has grown with the recent discovery of Eileen Chang s previously unknown translation which was unearthed among her papers at the University of Southern California Chang who lived in Shanghai until 1956 when she moved to California and began to write in English is one of the most acclaimed Chinese writers of the twentieth century Green Phoenix William Allen,2003-01-09 Can we prevent the destruction of the world s tropical forests In the fire scarred hills of Costa Rica award winning science writer William Allen found a remarkable answer we can not only prevent their destruction we can bring them back to their former glory In Green Phoenix Allen tells the gripping story of a large group of Costa Rican and American scientists and volunteers who set out to save the tropical forests in the northwestern section of the country It was an area badly damaged by the fires of ranchers and small farmers in many places a few strands of forest strung across a charred landscape Despite the widely held belief that tropical forests once lost are lost forever the team led by the dynamic Daniel Janzen from the University of Pennsylvania moved relentlessly ahead taking a broad array of political ecological and social steps necessary for restoration They began with 39 square miles and by 2000 they had stitched together and revived some 463 square miles of land and another 290 of marine area Today this region is known as the Guanacaste Conservation Area a fabulously rich landscape of dry forest cloud forest and rain forest that gives life to some 235 000 species of plants and animals It may be the greatest environmental success of our time a prime example of how extensive devastation can be halted and reversed This is an inspiring story and in recounting it Allen writes with vivid power He creates lasting images of pristine beaches and dense forest and captures the heroics and skill of the scientific teams especially the larger than life personality of the maverick ecologist Daniel Janzen It is a book everyone concerned about the environment will want to own
