Energy Sourcebook:

Powering Our Future Alternative Energy Institute, Kimberly K. Smith, 2005 With nearly all of the world's energy consumption dependent on non renewable resources Powering Our Future challenges consumers to support changes that will create sustainable energy in the future The four biggest energy sources oil natural gas coal and uranium currently power our earth What would happen to our society if we experienced severe shortages of one or more of these resources Such a glimpse into the future may become reality sooner than we think Oil production is soon expected to begin a rapid descent with natural gas in close pursuit Powering Our Future is an educational tool that opens the door to a future fueled by sustainable renewable energy Consumers will learn How our world has become dependent on four nonrenewable resources How each resource impacts us politically economically and environmentally How renewable resources such as hydrogen fuel cells wind power solar energy hydropower and more are waiting in the wings How the transition to renewable resources will take place offering economically stable and environmentally safe choices Powering Our Future is a solution oriented guide that will empower you to make more informed choices as a voter a contributor to a global economy and a citizen of the earth
