Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps us understand the world by developing knowledge and creating things that solve problems. Science is a process of asking questions, gathering information, and testing ideas to find answers. It is a way of thinking that helps us understand the world around us.

Designing solutions requires considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Engineers, scientists, and other professionals use scientific inquiry to solve problems and improve the quality of life. They use their knowledge and skills to create things that make a difference in the world.

After identifying a problem, determining how to solve it, what constraints affect it, and any compromises that may have to be made, scientists and engineers involve all the steps of the scientific process. They use their knowledge and skills to create things that make a difference in the world.
