Performing Fear in Television Production Siao Yuong Fong, 2025-10-01 What goes into the ideological sustenance of an illiberal capitalist democracy While much of the critical discussion of the media in authoritarian contexts focus on state power the emphasis on strong states tend to perpetuate misconceptions about the media as mere tools of the state and sustain myths about their absolute power Turning to the lived everyday of media producers in Singapore this book poses a series of questions that explore what it takes to perpetuate authoritarian resilience in the mass media How in what terms and through what means does a politically stable illiberal Asian state like Singapore formulate its dominant imaginary of social order What are the television production practices that perform and instantiate the social imaginary and who are the audiences that are conjured and performed in the process What are the roles played by imagined audiences in sustaining authoritarian resilience in the media As argued in the book if audiences function as the central problematic that engenders anxieties and self policing amongst producers can the audience become a surrogate for the authoritarian state The Theology of Fear in Thomas Aquinas's Summa Theologiae Nathan Luis Cartagena, 2024-05-23 The Theology of Fear in Thomas Aquinas's Summa Theologiae excavates and explores Thomas Aquinas's comparatively expansive theology of fear that he develops in the Summa theologiae Whereas many classify fear under a single category e.g. an emotion passion or sentiment Thomas specifies seven major categories of fear including the passion and gift of fear And while many classify courage as the lone virtue indexed to fear Thomas argues that courage and perseverance perfect it adding that a Spirit empowered gift of courage also perfects human fears so that human beings may attain and remain in blessedness A work in retrieval theology designed for Thomas and non Thomas scholars operating within the interactions of theology and psychology this book argues that understanding this theology's motivations internal coherence and merits is necessary for understanding Thomas's instruction for beginners in the Christian religion and its ongoing relevance for today Fear in the Medical and Literary Imagination, Medieval to Modern Daniel McCann, Claire McKechnie-Mason, 2018-05-19 This book is about an emotion constantly present in human culture and history fear It is also a book about literature and medicine two areas of human endeavour that engage with fear most acutely The essays in this volume explore fear in various literary and medical manifestations in the Western World from medieval to modern times It is divided into two parts The first part Treating Fear examines fear in medical history and draws from theology medicine philosophy and psychology to offer an account of how fear shifts in Western understanding from the Middle Ages to Modern times The second part Writing Fear explores fear as a rhetorical and literary force offering an account of how it is used and evoked in distinct literary periods and texts This coherent and fascinating collection will appeal to medical historians literary critics cultural theorists medical humanities scholars and historians of the emotions Realism and Fear in International Relations Arash Heydarian
