

Extracts from Scott's diary

These are extracts from the diary of Robert Falcon Scott, written on his expedition to the South Pole. Read the extracts and try to imagine what the experience must have been like for Scott and his men.

Saturday, January 28th 1911

---

We saw a dark object a quarter of a mile north as we reached the Barrier. I walked over and found it to be the tops of two tents more than half buried – Shockleton's tents we suppose. A moulting Emperor penguin was sleeping between them. The canvas on one tent seemed intact, but half stripped from the other.

The ponies pulled splendidly to-day, as also the dogs, but we have decided to load both lightly from now on, to march them easily, and to keep as much life as possible in them. There is much to be learnt as to their powers of performance. Keohone says 'Come on, lad, you'll be getting to the Pole' by way of cheering his animal – all the party is cheerful, there never were a better set of people.

Friday, March 31st, 1911

We are good for another week in pretty well every commodity and shall then have to reduce luxuries. But we have plenty of seal meat, blubber and biscuit, and can therefore remain for a much longer period if needs be. Meanwhile the days are growing shorter and the weather colder.
