Hodge, 2025-09-02 Businessman politician broadcasting personality and newspaper publisher Cas Walker 1902-1998 was by his own estimation a living legend in Knoxville for much of the twentieth century Renowned for his gravelly voice and country boy persona he rose from blue collar beginnings to make a fortune as a grocer whose chain of supermarkets extended from East Tennessee into Virginia and Kentucky To promote his stores he hosted a local variety show first on radio and then TV that advanced the careers of many famed country music artists from a young Dolly Parton to Roy Acuff Chet Atkins and Bill Monroe As a member of the Knoxville city council he championed the little man while ceaselessly irritating the people he called the silk stocking crowd This wonderfully entertaining book brings together selections from interviews with a score of Knoxvillians various newspaper accounts Walker s own autobiography and other sources to present a colorful mosaic of Walker s life The stories range from his flamboyant advertising schemes as when he buried a man alive outside one of his stores to memories of his inimitable managerial style as when he infamously canned the Everly Brothers because he didn t like it when they began performing rock n roll Further recollections call to mind Walker s peculiar brand of bare knuckle politics his generosity to people in need his stance on civil rights and his lifelong love of coon hunting and coon dogs The book also traces his decline hastened in part by a successful libel suit brought against his muckraking weekly newspaper the Watchdog It s said that any Knoxvilleian born before 1980 has a Cas Walker story In relating many of those stories in the voices of those who still remember him this book not only offers an engaging portrait of the man himself and his checkered legacy but also opens a new window into the history and culture of the city in which he lived and thrived Conversations Randall 'Jay' Andrews,2012-05-24 In Memoriam : Albert Craig Funkhouser (Co.
