Bayesian Forecasting and Dynamic Models Mike West, Jeff Harrison, 2013-06-29 In this book we are concerned with Bayesian learning and forecasting in dynamic environments We describe the structure and theory of classes of dynamic models and their uses in Bayesian forecasting The principles models and methods of Bayesian forecasting have been developed extensively during the last twenty years This development has involved thorough investigation of mathematical and statistical aspects of forecasting models and related techniques With this has come experience with application in a variety of areas in commercial and industrial scientific and socio economic fields In deed much of the technical development has been driven by the needs of forecasting practitioners As a result there now exists a relatively complete statistical and mathematical framework although much of this is either not properly documented or not easily accessible Our primary goals in writing this book have been to present our view of this approach to modelling and forecasting and to provide a reasonably complete text for advanced university students and research workers The text is primarily intended for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in statistics and mathematics In line with this objective we present thorough discussion of mathematical and statistical features of Bayesian analyses of dynamic models with illustrations examples and exercises in each Chapter

Applied Economic Forecasting using Time Series Methods Eric Ghysels, Massimiliano Marcellino, 2018-03-23 Economic forecasting is a key ingredient of decision making both in the public and in the private sector Because economic outcomes are the result of a vast complex dynamic and stochastic system forecasting is very difficult and forecast errors are unavoidable Because forecast precision and reliability can be enhanced by the use of proper econometric models and methods this innovative book provides an overview of both theory and applications Undergraduate and graduate students learning basic and advanced forecasting techniques will be able to build from strong foundations and researchers in public and private institutions will have access to the most recent tools and insights Readers will gain from the frequent examples that enhance understanding of how to apply techniques first by using stylized settings and then by real data applications focusing on macroeconomic and financial topics This is first and foremost a book aimed at applying time series methods to solve real world forecasting problems Applied Economic Forecasting using Time Series Methods starts with a brief review of basic regression analysis with a focus on specific regression topics relevant for forecasting such as model specification errors dynamic models and their predictive properties as well as forecast evaluation and combination Several chapters cover univariate time series models vector autoregressive models cointegration and error correction models and Bayesian methods for estimating vector autoregressive models A collection of special topics chapters study Threshold and Smooth Transition Autoregressive TAR and STAR models Markov switching regime models state space models and the Kalman filter mixed frequency data models nowcasting forecasting using large datasets and finally volatility models There are plenty of practical applications in the book and both EViews and R code are available online at authors website

Future in Focus: Mastering Sales Projection to Excel in Business Leroy Brock, Through a comprehensive exploration of sales projection this book equips entrepreneurs and professionals with the essential skills needed to understand and navigate the complex intricacies of business sales With a focus on the future readers will discover proven strategies and techniques to forecast sales with accuracy making informed decisions to drive growth and achieve business goals Unleash your potential and harness the power of sales projection to propel your business towards unparalleled success

Dynamic Regression Models of Forecasting Indicators of Social and Economic Security Dzmitry Shvaiba,2019 Dynamic multi factor regression models make it possible to take into account the dynamics of the proportions of the resulting indicator of socio economic security and indicators in the retrospective period The defects of such a model include the complexity of selecting indicators and determining their values in the lead period the difficulty of forming multivariate static regression models the development of predictive models of regression coefficients Without paying attention to the statistical significance of multivariate models used to form a dynamic model the values of regression coefficients over the years have all the chances to fluctuate significantly in the time series of these coefficients The alternately decreasing or rising regression coefficients due to the modification of the impact of indicators on the dynamics of the values of the resulting indicator of socio economic security often does not allow to create a forecast model
