Faith Fraternity Fighting:

Women and the Orange Order D. A. J. MacPherson, 2016-05-31 Provides a transnational account of women's involvement in conservative political activism during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in Britain and Canada

The Sash on the Mersey Mervyn Busteed, 2023-11-16 The book examines how an organisation originating in late eighteenth century Ireland became a significant and controversial element in Liverpool history Using a wide range of sources including rarely accessed Orange Order records it places the Order within an early nineteenth century Liverpool context of apocalyptic evangelical Protestantism a labour market dominated by irregular dock work a growing influx of immigrant Catholic Irish marked residential segregation and sporadic civil conflict It explores how the Order survived official disapproval dissolution and schism to become deeply rooted within Protestant working class communities It analyses the attractions of lodge life the appeal of ritual colourful regalia and 12th July processions the intense social bonding within lodges the mutual support provided in adversity and measure taken to guard and transmit their world view The intense royalism and patriotism of the Order and its troubled relationship with the Church of England are examined plus its role in sustaining the working class Tory vote which contributed to a century long Conservative hegemony in city politics The book concludes with the cultural and socio economic changes in British society which marginalised the core concerns of the Order triggering decline in strength visibility and significance in civic life

Claiming the Streets Paul O'Leary, 2012-10-15 Street processions were a defining feature of life in the Victorian town They were diverse in character and took place regularly throughout the year in all towns They provided opportunities for men and women to display themselves in public carrying banners and flags and accompanied by musical bands Much of the history of nineteenth century Wales has been written around political demonstrations and revolt but this book examines how urban communities in Victorian Wales created inclusive civic identities by using the streets for peaceful processions

Hennell,1887 Popular Opposition to Irish Home Rule in Edwardian Britain Daniel M. Jackson,2009 This book shows that from the start of the Third Home Rule Bill crisis there was in Britain considerable popular interest in the Irish issue and that the Curragh army mutiny of 1914 was not an isolated incident but part of a wider popular movement A well orchestrated campaign of agitation led by Unionist leaders Sir Edward Carson and Andrew Bonar Law had so exploited patriotic and sectarian resentment at the prospect of Irish Home Rule that by 1914 the United Kingdom was on the verge of civil war The book locates this movement at the end of a long nineteenth century where communal and confessional identities were still as powerful as class and where native hostility to Catholicism and Irish migration still prevailed The True Christian Religion Emanuel Swedenborg,1906
