Obstacles to Fairness in Criminal Proceedings John D Jackson, Sarah J Summers, 2018-03-22 This volume considers the way in which the focus on individual rights may constitute an obstacle to ensuring fairness in criminal proceedings The increasingly cosmopolitan nature of criminal justice forcing legal systems with different institutional forms and practices to interact with each other as they attempt to combat crime beyond national borders has accentuated the need for systems to seek legitimacy beyond their domestic traditions Fairness expressed in terms of the right to a fair trial in provisions such as Article 6 of the European Convention on Human Rights has emerged across Europe as the principal means of guaranteeing the legitimacy of criminal proceedings The consequence of this is that criminal procedure doctrines are framed overwhelmingly in constitutional terms the protection of defence rights is necessary to restrict and legitimate the state s mandate to prosecute crime Yet there are various problems with relying solely or predominantly on defence rights as a means of ensuring that proceedings are fair or legitimate and these issues are rarely discussed in the academic literature In this volume scholars from the disciplines of law philosophy and sociology challenge various normative assumptions underpinning our understanding of fairness in criminal proceedings

The Rich Get Richer and the Poor Get Prison Jeffrey H. Reiman, 2004 What if our criminal justice system is biased against the poor from start to finish from the definition of what constitutes a crime through the process of arrest trial and sentencing In this best selling text the author argues that actions of well off people such as the refusal to make workplaces safe refusal to curtail deadly pollution promotion of unnecessary surgery and prescriptions for unnecessary drugs cause occupational and environmental hazards to innocent members of the public and produce as much death destruction and financial loss as so called crimes of the poor However these crimes of the well off are rarely treated as severely as those of the poor Reiman documents the extent of anti poor bias in arrest conviction and sentencing practices and shows that the bias is conjoined with a general refusal to remedy the causes of crime poverty lack of education and discrimination As a result the criminal justice system fails to reduce crime The author uses numerous studies and examples to illustrate his points and difficult concepts are explained in a non technical manner The book provokes thought and discussion even among people who disagree with its content One reviewer describes the text as one of the most outstanding critiques of the criminal justice process a book that needed to be written and needs to be published again and again a text as relevant today as when first published in 1979 Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields ,1998 Annual World Bank Conference on Development Economics ,1998 In the Socratic Tradition Tziporah Kasachkoff,1998 Twenty seven essays explore how to teach a variety of subjects in philosophy General topics such as teaching introductory courses improving students comprehension of philosophy texts and improving student papers are examined Specific fields such as the study of ethics aesthetics philosophy of religion and the history of philosophy are accorded separate sections and strategies for explaining specific philosophers including Kant Hegel and Nietzsche are discussed All of the papers in this volume appeared in the same or in an earlier version in the American Philosophical Association Newsletter on Teaching Philosophy between 1986 and 1994 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR African Philosophy ,2000
