

What is Graphic Communication?

- ▶ Graphic communication as the name suggests is communication using graphic elements. These elements include symbols such as glyphs and icons, images such as drawings and photographs, and can include the passive contributions of substrate, color and surroundings.
- ▶ It is the process of creating, producing, and distributing material incorporating words and images to convey data, concepts, and emotions.
- ▶ Graphic communication involves the use of visual material to relate ideas such as drawings, photographs, slides, and sketches. The drawings of plans and refinements and a rough map sketched to show the way could be considered graphical communication.
