Food Practices and Family Lives in Urban China Chen Liu,2020-11-18 This book explores the emergent relationship between food and family in contemporary China through an empirical case study of Guangzhou a typical city to understand the texture of everyday life in the new consumerist society The primary focus of this book is on the family dynamics of middle income households in Guangzhou where everyday food practices including growing food shopping storing cooking feeding and eating play a pivotal role The book aims to conduct a comprehensive and integrated analysis of themes such as material and emotional domestic cultures family relationships and social connections between the domestic and the public based on a discussion of family food practices These topics will not only offer academic readers a full understanding of the most innovative recent critical engagements with urban Chinese families but also provide more general readers with a broader view of food consumption patterns within the scope of domestic and family issues This book will be of interest to sociologists anthropologists and human geographers as well as post graduate students who are interested in food studies and Chinese studies

Chinese Youth in Transition Jieying Xi,Yunxiao Sun,Jing Jian Xiao,2006 Featuring original research findings from a key Chinese national research centre this book provides researchers with cutting edge reliable and comprehensive information about children and youth in modern China Coverage spans a wide range of critical issues including children s physical and mental development leisure and consumption choices and juvenile delinquency Children in China Orna Naftali,2016-03-31 Chinese childhood is undergoing a major transformation This book explores how government policies introduced in China over the last few decades and processes of social and economic change are reshaping the lives of children and the meanings of childhood in complex contradictory ways Drawing on a broad range of literature and original ethnographic research Naftali explores the rise of new ideas of child care child vulnerability and child agency the impact of the One Child Policy and the emergence of children as independent consumers in the new market economy She shows that Chinese boys and increasingly girls too are enjoying a new empowerment a development that has met with ambiguity and resistance from both caregivers and the state She also demonstrates how economic restructuring and the recent waves of rural urban migration have produced starkly unequal conditions for children s education and development both in the countryside and in the cities Children in China is essential reading for students and scholars seeking a deeper understanding of what it means to be a child in contemporary China as well as for those concerned with the changing relationship between children the state and the family in the global era The Body in Asia Bryan S. Turner,Zheng Yangwen,2009-11-01 The past few decades have seen growing interest in the study of the body However the increasing number of exciting and influential publications has primarily if not exclusively focused on the body in Western cultures The various works produced by Asian scholars remain largely unknown to Western academic debates even though Asia is home to a host of rich body cultures and religions The peoples of Asia have experienced colonization decolonization and now globalization all of which make the body in Asia a rewarding field of research This unique volume brings together a number of scholars who work on East Southeast and South Asia and presents original and cutting edge research on the body in various Asian cultures Governance of Life in Chinese Moral Experience Everett Zhang,Arthur Kleinman,Weiming Tu,2010-12-20 China has experienced a tremendous turn around over the past three decades from the ethos of sacrificing life to the emergent appeal for valuing life This book takes an interdisciplinary look at China during these decades of transformation through the defining theme of governance of life With an emphasis on how to achieve an adequate life the contributors integrate a whole range of life related domains including the death of Sun Zhigang the peril caused by rising tobacco consumption the emerging suicide intervention the turning points in the fight against AIDS the intensely evolving birth policy the emerging biological citizenship and so on In doing so they explore how biological life has been governed differently to enhance the wellbeing of the population instead of promoting ideological goals This change dubbed the deepening in governmentality is one of the most important driving forces for China s rise and will have huge bearings on how the Chinese will achieve an adequate life in the 21st century This book presents works by a number of internationally known scholars and will be of interest to students and scholars of anthropology sociology political science history Chinese philosophy law and public health

Anthropology of Ascendant China Mayfair Yang, 2024-05-06 This volume represents the latest research in cultural anthropology on an ascendant and globalizing China covering the many different dimensions of China's ascendancy both within China itself and beyond It focuses not only on the real and perceived successes of China in the past four decades but also on the difficulties tensions and dangers that have emerged as a result of rapid economic development class polarization state expansion psychological distress and environmental degradation Including contributions by some of the most well known cultural anthropologists of China as well as rising innovative younger scholars this book documents and analyzes China's multifaceted transformations in the modern era both within Chinese society and in Chinese relations with the outside world It features the unique perspective of anthropology with its on the ground deep cultural immersion through long term fieldwork coupled with a macrolevel global perspective a strong historical perspective and theoretically engaged analyses to present a balanced account of China's ascendancy Anthropology of Ascendant China: Histories, Attainments, and Tribulations is suitable for students and scholars in Anthropology Sociology History Political Science and East Asian Studies as well as those working on contemporary Chinese society and culture more broadly Hybridising East and West Dominique Schirmer, Gernot Saalmann, Christl Kessler, 2006 Up to now debates on hybridisation are rather theoretical This book takes an empirical look at both everyday cultures and lifestyles religion medicine and scientific cultures and the directions of influences The findings suggest that hybridity and hybridising have to be conceptualised as processes of mixture relevant for constructing identities being increasingly positively denoted and displaying the multidirectionality and multidimensionality of hybridising processes In our globalised world such a mixture is very frequent highly present and rather inescapable

China Made Karl Gerth, 2003 Table of contents Bibliographic Index, 2001 Annual Review of Anthropology Print&online, 2002-10 Thirty two collected articles reflect last year's progress in the field of anthropology Contributions from archeology biological anthropology linguistics and communication studies regional studies and socio cultural anthropology are all represented Particular attention is given to two topics childhood and the anthropology of daily life An abstract is provided for each paper and some are supported with visual displays of information including graphs charts diagrams and photographs a few in color Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Fast Food/Slow Food Richard R. Wilk, 2006-08-25 Wilk and his colleagues draw upon their own international field experience to examine how food systems are changing around the globe The authors offer a cultural perspective that is missing in other economic and developmental studies and provide rich ethnographic data on markets industrial production and food economies This new book will appeal to professionals in economic and environmental anthropology economic development agricultural economics consumer behavior nutritional sciences environmental sustainability and globalization studies Kids in Context Sarane Spence Boocock, Kimberly Ann Scott, 2005-11 Kids in Context is an excellent presentation of qualitative research and theories of
