Global Technology Transfer John Chumack, 2002 Governments the world over fret continuously about the low level of transfer of technology especially within their own countries The general problem is military to industry although the variations are numerous Problems of presentation offering and support complicate an already byzantine world Yet somewhere within this dilemma lie the seeds of tomorrow s economic uptick Besides the nontrivial problems involved here the reluctance of the people having the technology to share it with someone who can profit from it stands out This book presents the issues and offers a comprehensive bibliography for easy access rules of the game primarily reflect the interests of the rich and powerful countries of the North He also surveys the economic performance of the various regions of the South and explores the real reasons for the success of certain Asian economies reasons which run counter to so many of the policy prescriptions laid down by the West for the rest of the South
