Women's Lives and Livelihoods in Post-Soviet Uzbekistan Zulfiya Tursunova, 2014-06-05 Women in Uzbekistan have been labeled as victims of patriarchy and submissive voiceless bodies who lack agency and decision making power. They are also often symbolized as preservers of rituals and culture and also the victims of socio economic transformations. During the years of land tenure changes from collectivization to de collectivization World War II and the five year plan economy women played a vital role in pursuing a diverse range of livelihood opportunities to sustain their families and communities. But what kind of livelihood activities do women pursue in rural areas in Uzbekistan? What do they think about themselves? Do they exercise agency? What are their values, desires, dreams and inspirations in the post Soviet period in Uzbekistan? Women's Lives and Livelihoods in Post Soviet Uzbekistan presents women's voices and their experiences of carrying out livelihood activities such as farming, trading, baking, sewing, building greenhouses and establishing furniture workshops. In a major contribution to the study of post Soviet transformations, Zulfiya Tursunova demonstrates how women exercise multi dimensional empowerment by joining social and economic saving networks such as gap and chernaya kassa. These networks represent a collective movement and action against economic dependency of women on men and the state micro loan bank system. The networks that do not require external donor interventions have been able to empower women for social justice, knowledge redistribution of resources and conflict resolution in ways that are vital to community development. Tursunova provides accounts of such ceremonies as mavlud, ihson, Bibi Seshanba and Mushkul Kushod. These ceremonies show the ways the conflict resolution practices of women are woven into their everyday life and function autonomously from the hierarchical elite driven Women's Committees and state court systems established in the Soviet times. Many local healers and others religious teachers use their discursive knowledge based on Islam, Sufism, shamanism and animism to challenge and transform women's subordination, abuse and other practices that impinge on women's needs and rights. These female religious leaders through different ceremonial practices create space for raising the critical consciousness of women and transform the social order for maintaining peace in the communities.

Creating the Third Force Maureen P. Flaherty, Hamdesa Tuso, 2016-11-21 The profession of peacemaking has been practiced by indigenous communities around the world for many centuries; however, the ethnocentric world view of the West which dominated the world of ideas for the last five centuries dismissed indigenous forms of peacemaking as irrelevant and backward tribal rituals. Neither did indigenous forms of peacemaking fit the conception of modernization and development of the new ruling elites who inherited the postcolonial state. The new profession of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) which emerged in the West as a new profession during the 1970s neglected the tradition and practice of indigenous forms of peacemaking. The scant literature which has appeared on this critical subject tends to focus on the ritual aspect of the indigenous practices of peacemaking. The goal of this book is to fill this lacuna in scholarship More specifically this work focuses on the process of peacemaking exploring the major steps of process of peacemaking which the peacemakers follow in dislodging antagonists from the stage of hostile confrontation to peaceful resolution of disputes and eventual reconciliation The book commences with a critique of ADR for neglecting indigenous processes of peacemaking and then utilizes case studies from different communities around the world to focus on the following major themes the basic structure of peacemaking process change and continuity in the traditions of peacemaking the role of indigenous women in peacemaking the nature of the tools peacemakers deploy common features found in indigenous processes of peacemaking and the overarching goals of peacemaking activities in indigenous communities Muslim Women of the Fergana Valley Vladimir Nalivkin,Maria Nalivkina,2016-07-04 Muslim Women of the Fergana Valley is the first English translation of an important 19th century Russian text describing everyday life in Uzbek communities Vladimir and Maria Nalivkin were Russians who settled in a Sart village in 1878 in a territory newly conquered by the Russian Empire During their six years in Nanay Maria Nalivkina learned the local language befriended her neighbors and wrote observations about their lives from birth to death Together Maria and Vladimir published this account which met with great acclaim from Russia's Imperial Geographic Society and among Orientalists internationally While they recognized that Islam shaped social attitudes the Nalivkins never relied on common stereotypes about the plight of Muslim women The Fergana Valley women of their ethnographic portrait emerge as lively hard working clever and able to navigate the cultural challenges of early Russian colonialism Rich with social and cultural detail of a sort not available in other kinds of historical sources this work offers rare insight into life in rural Central Asia and serves as an instructive example of the genre of ethnographic writing that was emerging at the time Annotations by the translators and an editor's introduction by Marianne Kamp help contemporary readers understand the Nalivkins work in context Millij Türkistan ,1951 Traditions religieuses et para-religieuses des peuples altaïques Permanent International Altaistic Conference$ (13e : 1970 : Strasbourg),1972 O'zbekiston xalqlari etnografiyasi va folklori Okhunzhon Safarov,Darmon O'rayeva,Manzila Qurbonova,2007 Central Asia Monitor ,2000 Til va adabiët ta"limi ,2006 A Turkish and English Lexicon Sir James William Redhouse,1890 "Авеста" -- бесценное богатство народов Востока Halimboi Boboev,2004 Geistliche Autorität und islamische Gesellschaft im Wandel Annette Krämer,2002 Keine auf hrliche Beschreibung f r Geistliche Autorit t und islamische Gesellschaft im Wandel verf gbar Towards a Mechanical Procedure for Evaluating Alternative Segmentations Into Morphs Donald Ardell Leuschel,1959 Trends in the Short Story of the Atlantic Monthly, 1857-1867 Anne Louise Hastings,1936 Uzbekistan ,2008 Travel holiday University of California Publications ,1989 Monumentum Georg Morgenstierne ,1982 Report on the Staten Island Project Paul De Rienzo,Dana Beal,1997 Comprehensive Uzbek-English Dictionary Jahangir Mamatov,Michael Horlick,Karamat Kadirova,2008 An Uyghur-English Dictionary Henry G.
